3. The licenses offered should be for a cloud based ERP System. The cloud ERP should be scalable and have provision to build customization custom process and innovation.

Read

3.1 The licenses offered should be for a cloud based ERP system. The Cloud ERP should be scalable and have provision to build customization custom process and innovation. The cloud solution offered has to be either in Platform as a Service model (PaaS) or a combination of PaaS and Software as a Service model (SaaS) model. The SI has to submit references of ERP system proposed to IIMK running in the proposed cloud service providers system. IIMK reserves the right to accept or reject the cloud service provider proposed.

3.2 For the PaaS model SI has to include the details of Cloud System, Solution, Architecture, Cloud Service provider and their SLAs in the technical bid. The annual subscription cost and all other cost related to cloud hosting for PaaS component to be included in the SI's Price Bid. The details of licenses, solution and other details to be included in the BOQ for OEM and to be shown in the Technical bid.

3.3 For the SaaS component, if any the SI has to mention the SaaS details in BOQ of OEM, along with solution architecture, module details, etc

3.4 For both SaaS and PaaS options the Cloud Server and data should reside in India.

5. The SI shall be responsible for the installation, configuration, customization, integration, testing, data migration and deployment of the proposed system for the PaaS component. For the SaaS component, if any, then installation and initial configuration will be in OEM's scope and all the other activities will be in SI's scope. SI should coordinate with OEM for smooth integration and functioning of the system. It is suggested to make minimal changes to the standard modules to ensure that future upgrades, enhancements and bug fixes are done without any complexity. Every customization to the system must be documented in detail and the code/script should be properly annotated with comments.
